

SIMPLICITY OF FORM

Hand Finished Marble Basins

Freeform patterns, intricate lacework designs, bold slashes of color - forged over millions of years and valued for thousands of years - our latest collection of marble basins are a celebration of nature. Simple geometric forms allow the stone to be the talking point of each piece.

Carved from a single block of hand selected marble, each basin takes our stone masons over 100 hours to polish. Giving a rough and irregular boulder a sense of weightlessness and perfection.

Available in a wide range of stones, each of our basins can be customized to meet the specific needs of your project. So go on, indulge yourself.

The gently inward sloping sides of the Echo basin, pictured in Lightning Grey, is based on a form commonly found in 15th century Middle Eastern brasswork.

Atop a matching plinth, the Touch basin is suitable for countertop or free standing display.

BATHWARE ACCESSORIES

Convenience and comfort at your fingertips

As contemporary freestanding bathware becomes increasingly common, we have put together a collection of practical accessories.

Our matte laminated bamboo tray, a modern alternative to the common traditional chrome solution, allows you to keep your bathing accessories easily to hand.

Our tapware plinths can be custom made in any colour to match your bath, allowing the specifier to select from the vast array of deck mounted tapware on the market. As we are all too aware, floor mounted mixers can be limited in design and function.

Removable pillows add a new level of comfort.

Grab bars can be attached to the interior or top edge of any of our baths upon request.

For this high-end residential development, we were privileged to work with renowned design duo Yabu Pushelberg. The team at Yabu Pushelberg studios formulated a semi-recessed corner bath with integrated tap and accessories deck. Creating a truly luxurious bathing experience despite the limited footprint.

In urban settings where space is at a premium, bespoke bathware offers a practical solution to what can be a true conundrum. Avoiding hours on end flipping through catalogues to find something that will fit!
